CAUTION

Ricardo Alonzo Perez-Trujillo is wanted for his alleged involvement in a major drug-trafficking organization operating out of New Mexico.

In October of 1999, Perez-Trujillo was arrested after allegedly being found by local law enforcement authorities in New Mexico while he was in possession of methamphetamines, marijuana, and a large amount of money believed to have been obtained from the distribution of controlled substances. Perez-Trujillo was released on bond after his arrest.

Perez-Trujillo was charged with possession of a controlled substance (felony narcotics) and possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute in a grand jury indictment issued on February 2, 2000, by the Thirteenth Judicial District Court, County of Valencia, State of New Mexico. A bench warrant was issued for Perez-Trujillo's arrest on May 4, 2000, after he failed to appear for his arraignment on drug charges.

Perez-Trujillo was subsequently charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, and a federal arrest warrant was issued by the United States District Court, State and District of New Mexico, on August 15, 2000.
